The Royal Biography

His Majesty King Maha Vajiralongkorn
Phra Vajiraklaochaoyuhua

His Majesty King Maha Vajiralongkorn Phra Vajiraklaochaoyuhua is the tenth reigning King of the Chakri Dynasty. His original name was His Royal Highness Prince Vajiralongkorn. He is the son of His Majesty King Bhumibol Adulyadej The Great and Her Majesty Queen Sirikit The Queen Mother. He was born at the Ambara Villa, Dusit Palace on Monday, July 28, 1952.

His Majesty has one elder sister, Princess Ubol Ratana and two younger sisters, Her Royal Highness Princess Maha Chakri Sirindhorn and Her Royal Highness Princess Chulabhorn Krom Phra Srisavangavadhana.

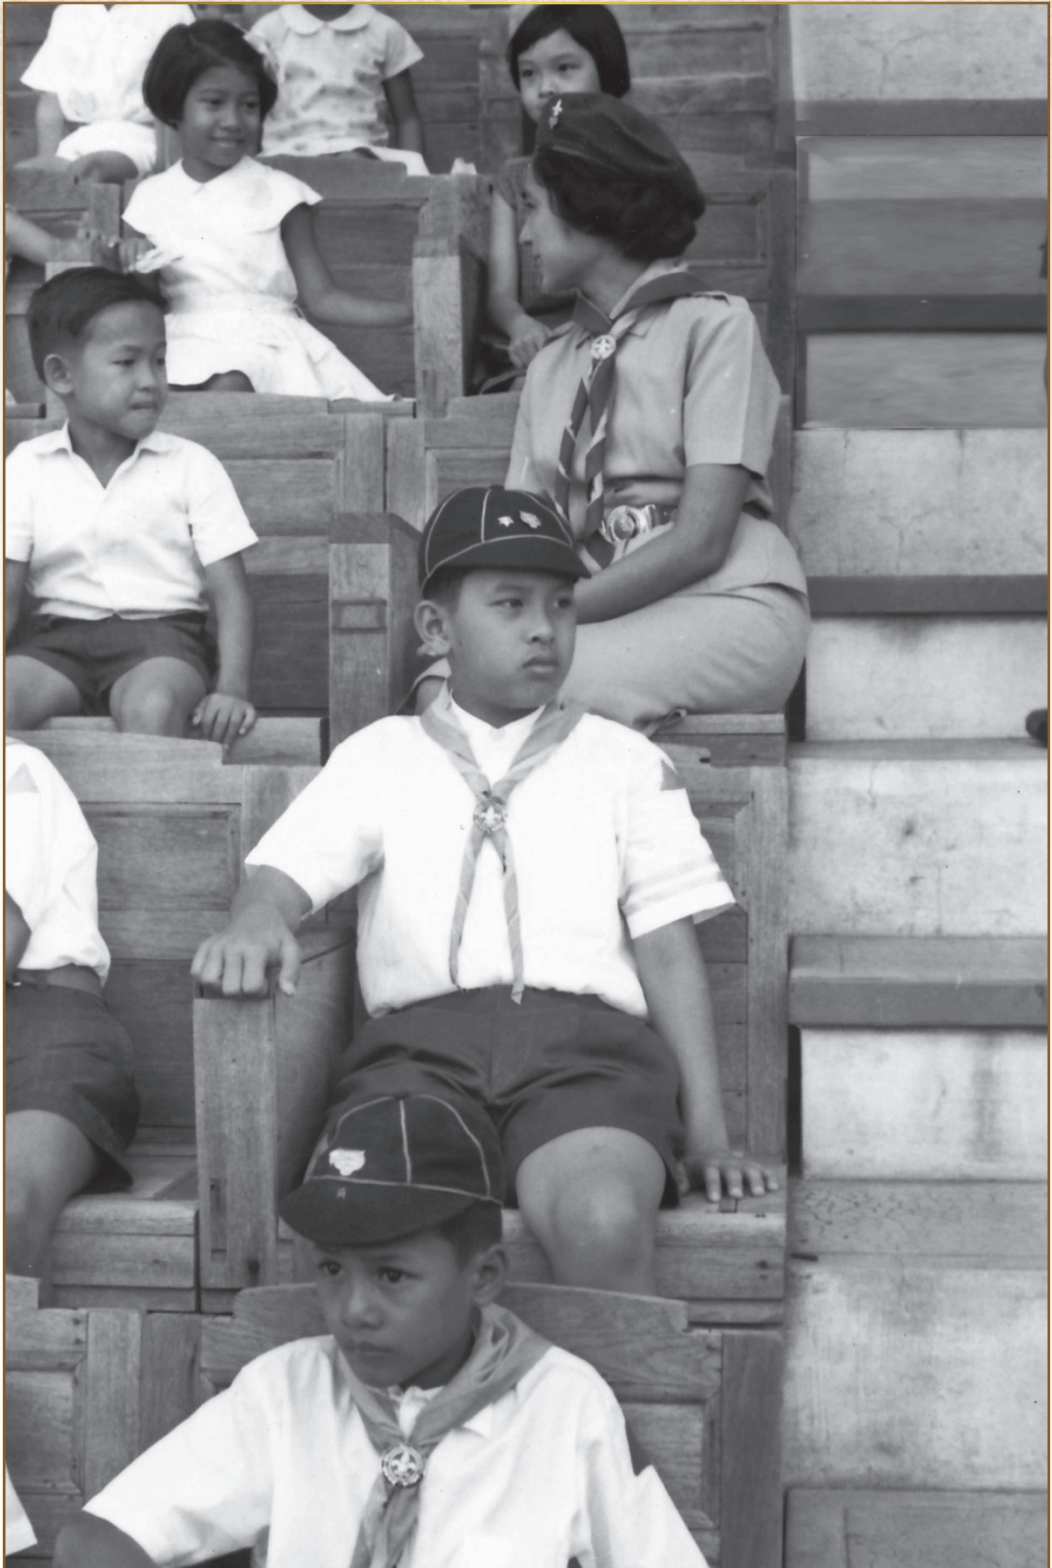

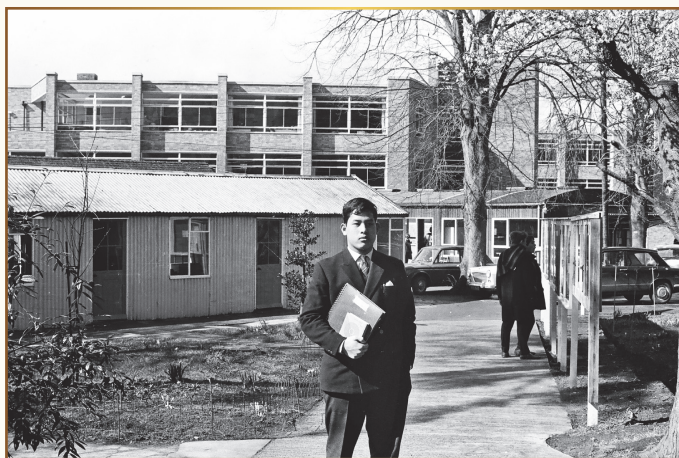

His Majesty began his elementary education at Chitralada School in the compound of Dusit Palace until 1966.

His Majesty furthered his studies in England, first at King's Mead Preparatory School in Seaford, Sussex, and then at Millfield School in Street, Somerset.

In 1970, His Majesty went to Australia to pursue a military education. In August of that year, he attended a five-week military training course at The King's School in Sydney, and was enrolled at the Royal Military College - Duntroon in Canberra in 1972. His education at Duntroon was divided into two parts: military training by the Australian Army and a bachelor's degree course under the auspices of the University of New South Wales. After returning to Thailand, His Majesty completed his study at Command and General Staff College, 56th class before attending Sukhothai Thammathirat Open University and finished a degree of Bachelor of Laws with second-class honors, then went to the Royal College of Defence Studies in the United Kingdom, respectively.

The most spectacular candle festival in Thailand, the Ubon Ratchathani Candle Festival illustrates the cultural heritage that has been practiced for more than 100 years. On Asalha Puja Day and Buddhist Lent Day or during July of every year, communities from all districts in the province will come together to carve candles into various sizes and shapes, including Thai mythical creatures and the life of the Buddha. The Candle Procession, accompanied by traditional Northeastern dancing and music, moves along the roads to end at Thung Si Mueang, then the candles will be offered to various temples in the province to make merit for happiness.

AUGUST

Swing Festival, Chiang Rai

Witness the charming culture of the Akha hill tribe at one of the most important festivals of the Akha hill tribe. The festival is held to celebrate the abundance of the crops and the upcoming harvest season along with paying homage to the ancestors and the goddess of rain amid the lush mountain scenery in the rainy season. Akha people of all genders and ages will dress up in traditional costumes and wear colorful accessories coming out to perform folk music, play bamboo tube as well as play on the swing and the Ferris wheel.

SEPTEMBER

Phra Buddha Maha Dhamaracha Bathing Ceremony, Phetchabun

Phra Buddha Maha Dhamaracha Bathing Ceremony, Phetchabun is held at Phechabura Buddhist Park, Tri Phum Temple and Bot Chanamarn Temple. The objective is to encourage participation among the people of Phetchabun, the private sector, and various agencies to preserve ancient culture and traditions to last forever. The festival will be composed of a divine worship ceremony at Tri Phum Temple, Phra Buddha Maha Dhamaracha processions around the city of Phetchabun, bathing the Buddha image around the waterfront of Bot Chanamarn Temple at Phechabura Buddhist Park.

OCTOBER

Buffalo Racing Festival, Chon Buri

The annual Buffalo Racing is held around the 11th lunar month. This tradition has been passed down from generation to generation. It is unique in Thailand the only one in the world that is held to promote the tourism of the province. It is organized one day before the end of the Buddhist Lent Day. In addition, there is also a parade of wagons of ten incarnations of the Buddha for 13 sermons around the market of Chonburi municipal. People in the community also come to join the procession to show the culture of various traditions. These draw the attention of people on both sides of the road. During the festival, there are several competitions such as different sizes of buffalo running competitions, a Tham Kwan Kwai ceremony and Thai traditional sports competitions, a buffalo health contest, a beautiful buffalo, a funny buffalo, and a Ban Na elderly women beauty contest. See performances by famous artists, and buy OTOP products of Chon Buri, in front of Amphoe Mueang Chon Buri.

NOVEMBER

Loi Krathong Festival, Nationwide

The stunning beauty of the candlelit Krathong that reflects on the water surface attracts visitors to participate in this ritual at numerous venues such as Wat Maha That in Phra Nakhon Si Ayutthaya, full of joy with Khon (traditional Thai masked dance) performance and Hun Lakhon Lek (small puppet) performance or joining Loi Krathong in an eco-friendly way in Suphan Buri that features unique Krathong made with ice, whereas Samut Songkhram organizes the 'Loi Krathong Kap Kluai' event, where the Krathong is made from banana stems instead of banana leaves. In Tak, there is the Loi Krathong

Sai Lai Prathip Phan Duang Tradition, when the Ping River is glittering with thousands of candlelit coconut shells that are threaded together into a long chain. Sukhothai arranges the festival at Sukhothai Historical Park amid the charm of ancient remains with the fireworks display, and Nang Nopphamat beauty contest and enjoying a meal that reflects Sukhothai background.

DECEMBER

Star Parade and Christmas Festival, Sakon Nakhon and Mukdahan

Star Parade and Christmas Festival, the only magnificent event in Sakon Nakhon and Mukdahan which has been held annually during the Christmas season. The festival is full of joy and happiness to celebrate the birth of Jesus, recall and show faith in delivering happiness, joy, and the unity of Christians during the Christmas season. In the area around the provinces, there are diverse ethnic groups and religions that live together in harmony and have beautiful cultural differences. Every year there is only a great star parade festival that is spectacular and beautiful in Thailand.
